CURAJ offers a diverse range of undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programs across disciplines such as Science, Arts, Commerce, Social Sciences, and Management etc. . The campus is well-equipped with modern facilities, including state-of-the-art classrooms, laboratories, a well-stocked library, sports amenities, and comfortable hostels for students. The University places a strong emphasis on research, encouraging both faculty and students to actively engage in scholarly pursuits.

About School of Mathematics, Statistics and Computational Sciences

The School strives to sensitize and train young students as future researchers in the frontier areas of applied fields, adopting the multi-disciplinary and inter-disciplinary approach. The school also trains the students for Research and Development of ICT and related industries and research organizations. Various innovative programs have been initiated by the departments of this School for local and global need.

About Department of Statistics

The Department of Statistics at the Central University of Rajasthan was established in 2009 along with Mathematics as one of its first two departments. Its main goal is to deliver quality education and advance theoretical, computational, and applied knowledge in Statistics, preparing students for diverse career paths in academia, government, private sectors, and NGOs. The department contributes significantly through teaching and research in areas such as Actuarial Science, Bayesian Statistics, Survival Analysis, Time Series, Big Data, and more. Alumni have secured positions in reputed government bodies like ISS, UPSC, RBI, and RPSC, as well as private organizations including SWISS Re, KPMG, and Max Life Insurance. Additionally, the faculty actively pursue research projects funded by leading agencies such as UGC, CSIR, and MOSPI.

About The Conference

The Department of Statistics, School of Mathematics, Statistics and Computational Sciences, Central University of Rajasthan, Ajmer, in collaboration with the Indian Society of Agricultural Statistics (ISAS), New Delhi, is proud to host the Annual Conference of the Indian Society of Agricultural Statistics on "Data Driven Decisions for Conducting Science with Society towards Viksit Bharat @ 2047" (DDDSS:2026VB@2047) during 29-31 January 2026.

This conference seeks to explore how data-driven decision-making can transform agricultural research, education, extension, and allied sciences to align with the national vision of Viksit Bharat @ 2047. Emphasis will be placed on integrating science with society through innovative statistical and computational methods, ensuring that modern data technologies are translated into practical solutions for farmers, communities, and policymakers.

The thematic focus of the conference will span across diverse areas. The role of data-driven delivery systems through KVKs (ICAR) will be examined to strengthen grassroots-level impact. Applications of data science in natural resource management (NRM), animal sciences, and plant biological systems will be highlighted to address emerging challenges in agriculture and allied sectors. Special attention will be given to integrated farming systems, showcasing how multiple enterprises can be optimized through effective use of data.

Recognizing the regional challenges of Rajasthan, the conference will also emphasize smart data applications for desert agriculture and horticulture, and discuss data-driven approaches for public health and nutrition in rural communities. Emerging frontiers such as big data and indigenous knowledge systems in sustainable farming, artificial intelligence and IoT in smart agriculture, advanced modelling and analytics, and data-driven policy frameworks for Vision 2047 will form key pillars of the deliberations.

By bringing together academicians, researchers, industry experts, extension professionals, and students, this conference will serve as a dynamic platform to exchange knowledge, share success stories, and debate innovative solutions. The insights generated will not only promote scientifically sound and socially relevant practices but also pave the way for sustainable, inclusive, and technology-enabled agricultural growth in India.

About The Society

India has a proud legacy of statisticians who have made significant contributions to national and international welfare, establishing a strong foundation for agricultural statistics. To recognise these contributions, the Indian Society of Agricultural Statistics (ISAS) was founded on January 3, 1947, with Dr Rajendra Prasad as its founder president, who continued to guide the society for 16 years even after becoming the president of India.

The Society's primary objective has been to disseminate research in agricultural statistics and informatics to address challenges in agriculture. It publishes the "Journal of the Indian Society of Agricultural Statistics" (ISSN 0019-6363), a unique platform for applied statistical research aimed at enhancing agricultural research and development across India.

Continuing its mission, ISAS, in collaboration with the Department of Statistics, Central University of Rajasthan, Ajmer, is organising the Annual Conference 2026 on "Data-Driven Decisions for Conducting Science with Society towards Viksit Bharat @ 2047", providing a forum for statisticians and researchers to share insights and innovations.
